Advance Designation of Representative Payee Report to Congress

Social Security Administration

January 1, 2025

Introduction

On April 13, 2018, the President signed into law the Strengthening Protections for Social Security Beneficiaries Act of 2018, Public Law 115-165 (SPSSBA). This law made several changes to the Social Security Act to improve and strengthen the Social Security Administration's (SSA) Representative Payee Program (Payee Program) for Title II, Title VIII, and Title XVI beneficiaries.

Section 201 of the SPSSBA established the authority for SSA to allow individuals receiving benefits (beneficiaries) and individuals seeking benefits (claimants) under Title II, Title VIII, or Title XVI the option to voluntarily designate individuals that they believe have a genuine concern for their well-being and could manage their benefits to meet their needs, by serving as a representative payee (payee) should the need arise.

Section 105 of the SPSSBA requires us to:

- Conduct a study on the changes made by Section 201, which shall include the impact of such changes on beneficiaries and the operations of SSA; and
- Not later than January 1, 2025, submit a report on the results of such study to the Committee on Ways and Means of the House of Representatives and the Committee on Finance of the Senate.

This report provides an overview of the changes made by Section 201 to the Payee Program and demonstrates the impact these changes have had on SSA beneficiaries, claimants, and SSA operations related to the Payee Program.

Background

Representative Payee Overview

The Payee Program provides benefit payment management for our beneficiaries who are incapable of managing or directing the management of benefit payments received under Title II, Title VIII, and Title XVI. Generally, legally competent adult beneficiaries have the right to receive their benefits directly and manage them independently. However, we may determine that a beneficiary is unable to manage or direct the management of their benefits because of the beneficiary's mental or physical condition, or because of the beneficiary's youth. When these situations occur, we must find a person or organization willing to receive and manage Title II, Title VIII, and Title XVI payments on behalf of a beneficiary. We refer to the individual or organization that receives and manages the benefits on behalf of a beneficiary as the “payee.”

As of Fiscal Year (FY) 2024, there are approximately 5.7 million payees serving 7.7 million beneficiaries, managing $81.4 billion in annual benefits.¹ In FY 2024, SSA processed approximately 1.3 million payee applications.² The payee program relies heavily on family relationships. Family members, primarily parents or spouses, serve 85.9 percent of the beneficiaries who have payees.³

With all payee selections, our primary concern is the beneficiary's best interests. Our policies reflect our commitment to ensuring that payees use benefits to promote the physical, mental, and emotional well-being of beneficiaries in a manner that preserves the dignity and protects the basic rights of our beneficiaries. The expectation of a payee is they manage the use of benefits to meet the beneficiary's needs. Most payees carefully and compassionately provide much needed help to beneficiaries on a volunteer basis.

When we determine a beneficiary needs a payee, we will contact them for assistance with locating a person who is willing to apply and serve as a payee. This process can be cumbersome, requiring multiple phone call attempts and call-in notices. We also find that there are times when the beneficiary is incapacitated and unable to respond. This can cause delayed payments, frustrations for our beneficiaries and claimants, and other hardships.

Advance Designation of Representative Payee

Section 201 of the SPSSBA allows adult and emancipated minor beneficiaries and claimants to proactively provide SSA with the names of up to three individuals, in order of priority, whom they would like to serve as their payee, should they need one in the future. We call this Advance Designation of Representative Payee (Advance Designation).

Advance Designation:

- Is voluntary.
- Can be waived.
- Is not a power of attorney.
- Can be requested by a beneficiary, at any time.
- Does not expire with time but can be changed or updated at any time.
- Can be requested during the initial or appeals level of the application process.
- Is not an indication of capability to manage or direct the management of SSA benefits.
- Is not connected to a claim for Title II, Title VIII, or Title XVI benefits, nor a claim's duration. (If SSA denies the claim or the beneficiary stops receiving benefits, the advance designation information remains in the database and can be accessible again once the claimant or beneficiary reapplies for benefits, becomes a beneficiary, or files an appeal.)

Individuals who are eligible to advance designate can make the following updates to their advance designation information at any time:

- Add a designee

² Electronic Representative Payee System (eRPS) – November 14, 2024.

³ Office of Research, Evaluation & Statistics (ORES) – December 2023.

- Delete a designee
- Withdraw entirely all designees
- Change the order of priority of the designees
- Edit designee information (name, telephone, relationship)
- Elect to advance designate if they previously waived advance designation or withdrew their advance designee(s)

We provide several methods for our beneficiaries and claimants to request or make changes to an existing advance designation. Requests and changes can be done by mail, in person, by telephone or via the internet.

Table 1: Methods and Collection Processes for Advance Designation

Method	Process
Mail	Beneficiary or claimant submits a request for advance designation by completing the Form SSA-4547 – Advance Designation of Representative Payee, which is available in fillable and printable PDF versions. ⁴ An SSA technician records the information.
In Person or Telephone	Beneficiary or claimant requests advance designation by visiting a local field office or calling our national 800#. An SSA technician records the information.
Self-help Internet	Beneficiary or claimant submits their request for advance designation via the internet using their mySocialSecurity Account ⁵ or while completing an iClaim Application. ⁶

We issue a receipt⁷ to beneficiaries and claimants who elect, waive, or update their advance designation. If the beneficiaries or claimants are utilizing the internet they can choose to print the screen to serve as their receipt. We also issue annual notices⁸ with designee information and a reminder of the ability to modify, update, or withdraw their advance designation at any time.

If SSA determines the need for a payee, we initially consider the advance designation information. Although an individual can designate up to three individuals, only one payee can serve the beneficiary at a time. A designee cannot be an organization or a beneficiary with a payee or who has a payee selection pending. Additionally, before payee selection, we must first determine if the designee is:

- willing to serve as payee; and
- willing to apply to be payee; and
- suitable⁹ to serve as payee.

⁵ mySocialSecurity Advance Designation is available to a beneficiary that does not have a payee.

⁶ iClaim Application allows claimants to file for Title II and Title XVI benefits.

⁷ Appendix B shows an example of a receipt for advanced designation.

⁸ Appendix C shows an example of an annual notice for advanced designation.

If SSA determines that a beneficiary needs a payee, and there is no designee to consider, the burden to identify a suitable payee falls on SSA.

Evaluation and Impact of Advance Designation

To evaluate the usefulness and success of advance designation and the impact, if any, on SSA operations, we obtained data from our SSA systems between FY 2020 and FY 2024.

Table 2 shows the number of beneficiaries and claimants who elected to advance designate using the various methods available. From the time we implemented advance designation in March 2020 to the end of FY 2024, we have seen an increase in the number of requests to advance designate. We anticipate that, as the public becomes more aware of this option, the numbers will continue to increase.

As reflected in the chart below, use of our online services is the preferred method to request advance designation. As a result of our beneficiaries and claimants electing to advance designate while conducting business using our online services, the need for SSA technician assistance is greatly reduced.

Table 2: Advance Designation by Method

Election Method	FY 2020	FY 2021	FY 2022	FY 2023	FY 2024
Self-help Internet	557,184	1,038,357	1,147,726	1,189,107	1,241,068
Mail, In person/ telephone	269,769	447,880	570,142	699,430	756,233
Total Advance Designation Elections per FY	826,953	1,486,237	1,717,868	1,888,537	1,997,301

Table 3 shows the number of payee applications filed by a designee and whether the designee was selected. The table shows that, in cases where a designee ultimately applies to become a payee, we are able to select the designee as the payee approximately 90 percent of the time. This is an indicator of the quality of the designees provided via advance designation.

In instances where a designee files an application to serve as payee and we subsequently determine that the beneficiary is capable, deceased or no longer eligible for benefits, we will not select the designee and will record the non-selection in our records.

Table 3: Advance Designation Payee Applications and Selections

SSA Selection/Non-Selection of Designee as Payee	FY 2020	FY 2021	FY 2022	FY 2023	FY 2024	Total
Designee Selected	4,854	14,178	17,506	21,070	25,468	83,076 (90.5%)
Designee Not Selected	550	1,495	1,925	2,174	1,990	8,134 (9.5%)
Total Number of Payee Applications filed by a Designee	5,404	15,673	19,431	23,244	28,074	91,826 (100%)

Conclusion

With the implementation of Section 201 of the SPSSBA, our beneficiaries and claimants can provide us with information of up to three people they trust to potentially manage their benefits, in the event they are no longer able to do so for themselves. In our review of the data, we found that:

- beneficiaries and claimants are increasingly electing to advance designate;
- they overwhelmingly choose to do so online, which minimizes SSA employee involvement; and
- if an advance designee eventually applies to become a payee, we are generally able to select the designee to serve as the payee.

Furthermore, advance designation provides our technicians with helpful information in identifying potential payees for our beneficiaries when they are no longer capable of managing their benefits. Without advance designation, identifying a potential payee for beneficiaries can be time-consuming and cumbersome, sometimes, requiring additional beneficiary contact and delayed payment.

We continue to increase awareness of the advance designation process through various methods such as social media, SSA.gov website, blogs, and Dear Colleague Letters. Additionally, we have provided guidance to our technicians on their responsibilities to inform beneficiaries and claimants about advance designation. As our beneficiaries and claimants become more aware of the ability to advance designate, we anticipate a sustained increase in participation.

We appreciate the work Congress has done to improve the Payee Program. We look forward to collaborating further toward our shared goal of protecting our most vulnerable beneficiaries, and making the Payee Program as effective, efficient, and trustworthy as possible.
